

TC Restaurant Group Executive Chef Tomasz Wosiak, Caroline Bryan, and Ellen Boyer on the set of Today in Nashville.

TC Restaurant Group partners with Brett Boyer Foundation for CHD research on Today in Nashville

TC Restaurant Group Executive Chef Tomasz Wosiak teamed with Caroline Bryan and Ellen Boyer on Today Nashville to introduce viewers to the Luke's 32 Bridge cocktail "The Bee Sting." The drink, featuring lemon, fresh jalapenos and crisp soda water raises awareness for a cause near and dear to Bryan's heart, The Brett Boyer Foundation (BBF).

BBF was created in loving memory of Sadie Brett Boyer to raise funds for Congenital Heart Disease (CHD) Research and Down Syndrome awareness.

Through this partnership TC Restaurant Group seeks to further the efforts of Bryan and Boyer. Patrons of Luke's 32 Bridge can pose with the BBF Bee Wings and 100 percent of BBF merchandise sales benefit the foundation.

Following the "Bee" theme of the segment, Wosiak highlighted three items from the Luke's 32 Bridge menu to pair with the cocktail.

A full slab of BBQ ribs compliments with just the right amount of sweetness and savory smokiness thanks to TC Restaurant Group's signature BBQ sauce and rubs; made in small batches and packaged right here in Music City.

The segment also featured perfectly roasted Beer Can Chicken sitting atop mashed potatoes and green beans and, on the lighter side, the Beet Salad with mandarin oranges, goat cheese and candied pecans.

Stop by Luke's 32 Bridge to try "The Bee Sting" and grab some BBF merchandise to support the cause.

For more information visit www.tcrestaurantgrp.com, www.thebrettboyerfoundation.com, and www.lukes32bridge.com.

BBQ Ribs, Beer Can Chicken and the Beet Salad from Luke's 32 Bridge.

THE BRETT BOYER FOUNDATION

THE BEE STING

Fresh jalapenos add a sting to
Deep Eddy Lemon vodka.
Topped with crisp soda water.

LUKE'S
32 BRIDGE
FOOD + DRINK

RESTAURANT GROUP